10 TRIMMING TRICKS FOR THE BASIC DRESS

These all-year-round crochet trims will give you a variety of ensembles. Note the clever use of doilies in sketch 2601--lovely fringe for epaulettes in sketch 2604--and we know you'll want to make miles of our special crocheted braid for trimming your dress, your suit, your hat. This braid (in different sizes) is shown in sketches 2606 and 2608 opposite and pages 7 for suits and 10 and 11 for hats.

We have illustrated many of these models with white trims. This was done in order that they might be clearer to you and because "blackout white" is a style feature. However, choose your own color. The peplum looks especially good in bright red. Any color lace cascade with cuffs to match would be very smart.

Instructions on how to give your dresses new life with these crochet trims are found on Pages 4 and 5. If you have any questions regarding your handwork, please write to me. I shall be glad to give you all of the help I can.

Sincerely,

Cecilia Vanek

SUITABLE CHANGES

A good suit is a valuable investment. Here are 5 ways to vary its appearance -- 5 ways to preserve that crisp, fresh look.

Dickies are always good. The one shown on illustration 2609 was cut down from an old shirtwaist that had split under the arms. The butterfly dickey 2610 is completely crocheted and forms a vestee. We've used our special braid again for frogs and to outline the lapels and jacket on sketch 2611. This is one of the best suit rejuvenators we know of. For that feminine touch on a masculine suit tack on a bunch of violets--make an extra bunch to pin on your pocketbook. The Colonial jabot is especially nice...note the unusual edging design.

Try these changes for year round versatility. Instructions will be found on pages 8 and 9.

PINAFORE 2635

Rip sleeves and hem out of dress.

Starting at shoulders cut straight down to within $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches from waistline or to the belt on the front and back of dress.

Cut a strip of the hem for ruffle, allowing enough on bottom of dress for narrow hem.

Gather the ruffles and sew to each side of front and back as illustrated.

If dress has no belt, sew a facing of about $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches all around to give the appearance of a belt. The sleeves may be used for the facing.

A small piece from the ends of sash may be used for pockets.
